File No. ~~6/57~~

SUBJECT.

Restoration of the temple of Badrachalam on the bank of the Godaveri"

From

Sitaramanuja charya of Bhadrachala.

Memorial No. 1390/4923 Dated 29th April 1907 addressed to H.H. The Maharaja.

The memorialist writes to say that the temple of Sri Sitaramaru in Bhadrachala on the bank of the Godaveri is an ancient institution of Puranic renown situated in the midst of the jungle. He states that many travellers who resort thereto during the Sri Rama Navami, are dying for want of food, and prays that orders which H. H. The Maharaja deems fit may be passed on his memorial.

The memorial has been referred

SECRETARIAT

May it please your Excellency,

I the undersigned most respectfully and humbly beg to bring the following few lines to your Excellency's kind consideration.

The temple of Badrachalam on the Godavari, erected by Swami Ramadas is now in ruins. To bring it back to its former eminence, is an expensive task to an insignificant being like myself; but I am glad to say that I have been encouraged to rebuild the temple. The estimate charge for the temple is about two thousand rupees, of which a sum of one thousand rupees was subscribed by many Princes and gentlemen of Southern India.

As the money collected was insufficient to complete the temple, I applied for the generosity of H. H. the Maharajah and high officials of this state, who were good enough to respond to my petition by their liberal subscriptions.

I have been travelling in various places to collect more money than what I have for the present.

I therefore most humbly and respectfully beg your Excellency to stretch forth your Excellency's helping hand, so that I may succeed in my noble undertaking and thereby enable many devotees of the Swami to worship in that temple, and to give an early reply.

I beg to remain,

Your Excellency's most obedient and humble servant.
